

A green background with a repeating pattern of stylized leaves and fruit. The leaves are light green, and the fruit are darker green. The pattern is dense and covers the entire background.

NURTURE AT WITTERSHAM

What does Nurture mean to us?

What does the word nurture mean to you?

What does being nurtured look like?

What is Nurture?

- Nurture refers to the care and attention that children are given while they are growing and developing. This helps to give them emotional resilience.
- Nurture highlights the importance of social environments – like home and school – because it focuses on the people around a child and not the features that they were born with.
- As well as that, nurture is also significant to our social-emotional skills, wellbeing and behaviour.

To be nurtured means you have a caring and stimulating place to live, grow and develop.

We all want and need to be nurtured. It helps us to grow and develop.

Positive growth....

Six Principles of Nurture

Children's learning is understood developmentally.

Language is a vital means of communication.

The classroom offers a safe base.

The Six Principles of Nurture

The importance of nurture for the development of well-being.

All behaviour is communication.

The importance of transition in a child's life.

1. We understand that we all learn differently.
2. Our classroom is a safe space.
3. We know that Nurture is important for our wellbeing.
4. Language is an important way to communicate.
5. We all communicate our behaviour differently.
6. Transition is a really important part of our lives.

The Six Principles of Nurture

- Children's learning is understood developmentally.
- The classroom offers a safe base.
- The importance of nurture for the development of well-being.
- Language is a vital means of communication.
- All behaviour is communication.
- The importance of transition in a child's life.

What do we do here at Wittersham to nurture and support your growth and development?

